

CHARLIE COMPANY, LOGISTICS TASK FORCE-325 IN ACTION

Kandahar, Afghanistan-

Charlie Company, Logistics Task Force – 325 (LTF-325) was recently engaged in a Civil/Military Assistance Exercise (CMAX) mission. This mission involved four Soldiers from Charlie Company, LTF-325, Captain Brian Kim, Captain Julianne Douglas, Sergeant Jason Lawrence and Specialist Angel Thurston. These Soldiers along with Soldiers from the 3-7 Field Artillery, Civil Affairs, Psychological Operations, Romanian Army and Afghan National Army executed their duties in order to promote greater relationships with the local Afghanistan populace. To date, the Soldiers of this Task Force have conducted numerous missions of this type. Their success directly impacts the Nation's mission to stabilize the region and implement the foundation for a successful democracy.

Local Afghan females await treatment during the recent CMAX

Local Afghan children

CPT Douglas and SPC Thurston with interpreters

The CMAX mission conducted in late April concentrated on the small village of Landay Kalay, Afghanistan with a population of just over 300 people. The medical team was able to successfully treat about half of this population for various dental and basic medical needs. There is still much to be done throughout the region and the CMAX missions performed by C/325 will continue in order to promote the health and welfare of the local population.

Article written by: 1LT Shaun Roland, Combat Health Support Officer
Photos taken by: SGT Jason Lawrence, Medic